FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Ice Age is Coming!

Green Bay, WI—May 23, 2016— Opening this weekend is Ice Age Imperials- a traveling exhibit that tells the story of the Ice Age. Its exciting interactive displays make the drama of the majestic animals that dominated the age accessible to all.

Ice Age Imperials provides a rare opportunity for visitors to 'Touch the Ice Age'. Interacting with real fossils from ancient animals like the sabertooth cat, woolly mammoth, giant sloth, dire wolf, giant beaver, and teeth from a huge Ice Age bear will make the Ice Age come alive to visitors like never before. Interactive displays include a 3-D Mastodon puzzle and a History of Earth timeline where you can touch a wide variety of fossils from more than 500 million years ago to less than 1 million years ago.

Ice Age Imperials will be on display May 27, 2016 through October 30, 2016. You can find related programming and exhibit information at www.nevillepublicmuseum.org
