Green Bay, WI---October 21, 2023--- The 78th Art Annual exhibit is an all-media, juried exhibition of current artworks produced by artists living in the counties of Northeastern Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula. A total of 54 artworks by regional artists are represented in is show juried by Emily Schlemowitz.

This juried art exhibition began in 1942 during the height of World War II. For three-quarters of a century, many of this region's most celebrated and talented artists have exhibited their work as part of this Green Bay tradition.

"The submissions to the Neville's all-media call were powerful and exquisitely crafted. Jurying such an exhibition was difficult and challenging. As a fiber arts curator, I brought to this task an attention to the artist's amalgamation of material, gesture, and tools. All of the works selected are expressions of the artist's desire to communicate through their hands and chosen mediums. I thank the museum for inviting me to judge its 78th addition of this exhibition. The breadth of artistry in this region is strong."-- Emily Schlemowitz
